SOLONS TO QUESTION JORDAN

Senate Decides to Take Investigation Out of Control Board's Hands

Woman Attache Testifies That She Made Loans to the Accused Official

SACRAMENTO, April 10.—By unanimous vote, under suspended rules, the Senate decided today to take the investigation of Secretary of State Jordan's office out of the hands of the Board of Control and place it before a joint committee of six members of the Legislature.

The resolution providing for this action was sent immediately to the Assembly for concurrence.

ADMITTS MAKING "LOANS."

Mrs. Anita Brewster, an attaché of Secretary of State Jordan's office, admitted on the stand at the board of control inquiry today that she was in the habit of frequently "loaning" money to the secretary of state.

This information developed after Robert Jordan, son of Secretary Jordan, and corporation secretary of his father's office, had testified that while Mrs. Brewster was on a vacation he had indorsed her checks, cashed them on several occasions and paid the money to his father.

The checks were those sent to Mrs. Brewster in payment for furnishing private parties with lists of automobile registrations.

INSTRUCTED BY WOMAN.

Young Jordan said he had been instructed by Mrs. Brewster to indorse her checks in her name and to turn the money over to Secretary Jordan. He thought the amount thus delivered to his father was about $100.

When asked as to the amount of money she had advanced to Jordan at different times Mrs. Brewster refused to answer. She also declined to say whether she received any interest on the loans, whether Jordan gave her any promissory notes and whether she got all the money back.

Freight Train Racing With Mississippi Flood

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 10.—A special train loaded with steel piling left Pittsburgh at express speed this morning with the hope that it will reach New Orleans in time to save that city from the rapidly rising waters of the Mississippi.

When it became evident that the flood waters of the Ohio and its tributaries would endanger the levees on the lower Mississippi, the government placed an order with a Pittsburgh mill for steel piling to be used in strengthening the embankments. Every man

ANXIETY IS FELT FOR POPE

Condition Unchanged, Says Physician, and Patient Takes Some Nourishment

Attendants Are Depressed, However, and Give Out Most Gloomy News

ROME, April 10.—At noon today the condition of the Pope was much better but the weakness of the heart and his intermittent pulse were still causing anxiety. The doctors permitted him to eat an egg with broth, but the patient was able to take it only with difficulty.

The Pope rejoiced to see the morning bring a change in the weather. A splendid sun streamed through the arched windows of his bedroom. Although this seemed to encourage his spirits, he continued to feel nauseated and averse to taking nourishment, notwithstanding the efforts made by his own cook, Stefano Incisostro, an old servant, who came with him from Venice.

PHYSICIAN SEES HOPE.

Professor Marchiafava said after his morning visit that he considered the unchanged condition as auguring well for the better. The only specific apprehension is heart weakness.

In all the churches of Rome special prayers were offered this morning for the recovery of the Pope.

Dr. Amici, who spent the night at the Pope's bedside, said this morning that his patient rested sufficiently well. His temperature is now a little above 98.

Dr. Amici declared today that he hopes by next week the Pope will be convalescent.

An entirely contrary opinion, however, is expressed by some of those immediately surrounding the Pope, who depict the situation as grave. They assert that an examination made by a specialist showed the presence of from 10 to 12 degrees of albumen.

Professor Marchiafava gave confirmation this afternoon of the continuance of the improvement of the Pope's condition. He said that his only fear was that complications might arise, more especially through lack of nourishment, because of absence of appetite. Efforts will be made to administer artificial nourishment.

Hunger Striker in Serious Condition

Miss Zelle Emerson's Nervous System Is Completely Shattered.

LONDON, April 10.—Dr. Mansell, the well-known suffragist physician, declared today in discussing the health of Miss Zelle Emerson, the American suffragist, who was released from jail after she had endangered her life by a hunger strike, that her nervous system is completely shattered. "She is almost unable to sleep," he said, "and even when she is sleeping she does not rest, owing to horrible dreams. Her digestive system has been seriously impaired and she suffers great pain above the appendix. I do not care to say more about this feature of the case."

NEW ORLEANS, April 10.—Captain C. O. Sherrill, chief of the United States engineers in charge of the levee work from Vicksburg south has large forces of men strengthening the levees and raising them from two to three feet above the high water stages.

State and city engineers assert there is not the slightest danger in the vicinity of New Orleans.

BIG LEAGUE SEASON OPENS

Games Scheduled in Many Cities; New Managers to Make Debut

Contests in Chicago and Cleveland Postponed on Account of Rain

NEW YORK, April 10.—Major league baseball got a start today for the season of 1913. East meets East, and West struggles against West, in both National and American organizations. In the National, Brooklyn is at Philadelphia and Boston at New York. The St. Louis-Chicago game at the latter city was postponed on account of rain. For the American League, Philadelphia is at Boston, New York at Washington. Rain also caused the cancellation of the Cleveland-Chicago game at Cleveland. Detroit is at St. Louis.

NEW MANAGERS ON FIELD.

Many new managers make their debut today. Evers in Chicago, Stallings in Boston and Miller Huggings in St. Louis, represent the new managerial blood in the older league. In the American, Frank Chance in New York, Birmingham in Cleveland and Stovall in St. Louis are bowing to the public.

Locally, a big day was promised for the Giants and Boston Nationals at the Polo grounds. Tarsreau was the selection for the box for New York and Terdue for Boston.

BEDIENT TO FACE BENDER.

BOSTON, April 10.—Prevailing opinion as to the batteries in today's game was that Bedient would face Bender on the mound and that Cady and Thomas would do the catching.

GAME AT ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—The same St. Louis American team, as that which played the spring games with the St. Louis Nationals lined up against Detroit this afternoon. Wellman and Agnew were scheduled as the battery for St. Louis and Mullin and Stange for Detroit.

PHILADELPHIA-BROOKLYN.

PHILADELPHIA, April 10.—Yesterday's close contest in Brooklyn between Philadelphia and Brooklyn's National League teams added interest to today's contest. The batteries were expected to be Chambers and Doolin for Philadelphia and Ragon and Muller for Brooklyn.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—President Wilson arranged his business at the White House office so he could attend the opening game here today between the Washington and New York Americans and toss the first ball from his box to Manager Griffith.

Washington's official and social life was largely represented in the attendance, which was a record one. The gates were opened at noon to meet the rush of ticket-holders.

Frank Chance, despite a twisted ligament in his left leg, insisted on playing at first in today's game. Griffith had Johnson and Ainsworth ready as his batteries and Chance had Caldwell and Sweeney.

Police Report Her Connection With Infamous Resort to Immigration Officers

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—Edna Loftus Rheinstrom, whose elopement with Harry Rheinstrom, son of a wealthy Cincinnati brewer, electrified eastern society and whose subsequent checkered career has brought her frequently before the public eye, is languishing at the Angel Island immigration camp. The young woman, who was formerly one of the stars of the London music halls, is facing deportation on the claim that she is an undesirable alien and that she has not been comporting herself with proper regard for the morals of the community since she has been in San Francisco.

Last night Miss Loftus was taken into custody by order of Captain of Inspectors Frank Ainsworth and booked at the city prison. This morning, after a night in which she arraigned the authorities as she walked up and down her cell, the girl was taken across the bay by Inspector John Robinson.

New Chinese Republic Recognized by Brazil

PEKING, April 10.—The Brazilian government, anticipating similar action on the part of the United States, has cabled to the Chinese government its recognition of its new republic.

Reports circulated abroad yesterday that Li Yuan Hing, vice-president of the republic and long the rival of President Yuan Shi Kai for the leadership, had been assassinated, are declared untrue. Both the president and the vice-president are constantly guarded, however, in fear that their political opponents may be plotting against them.

ACTRESS IS NAMED IN DIVORCE

Charles Paff, Wealthy Architect, Made Defendant by Wife's Suit

Miss Marion Grieg Is Named by Wife as Cause of Action

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—A sensation in exclusive society circles is expected to be caused by the revealing of the details of the marital difficulties of Charles Paff, a wealthy local architect and clubman, and his wife, Bertha May Paff, who recently filed secretly a suit for divorce. The transfer of the cause from the secret file in San Francisco to that of Marin county has let out the details and exposed the identity of Paff's alleged affinity the wife holds as responsible for the domestic tragedy which has resulted. The woman in the case has been named as Miss Marion Grieg, an actress employed by the Moving Picture Dramatic Company and at present playing an engagement in Los Angeles.

The wife recites how on one occasion she "found in the clothing of the defendant, after his return from Los Angeles, and after his visit to Marion Grieg, a lady's hair comb, to which was attached a several long brown hairs, evidently from the head of a woman with brown hair."

This morsel of evidence forms but a small part of the complaint. There are letters innumerable. In one of them Paff is quoted as saying, "Now, Marion, sweetest, you said you would enjoy a week up here with me. I trust you will come."

LETTER FROM MARION.

Evidently the young woman had been asking for money from the architect, for she writes him, according to the allegations, "Dear Charles, I've got to try to get my delivery office, but no package. Had to get up early, as they were going into the hills. The company I am with expects to go East about the first of next month. I have to save for my traveling expenses. How is the divorce getting on? Your loving friend, MARION."

At another time she writes: "If we go East as soon as you said, I can get money there. I am sorry your family teased you so much today, but no doubt it is for the best, dear, and will be settled soon."

Mrs. Paff asks for the custody of the five children, one of whom, Virginia, is 20 years old and is prominent socially. The family has a home in the Belvedere, but since the separation, which has come about recently, the architect is stopping at the Olympic Club. The wife sets forth that he is in receipt of $1000 a month, of which amount she wants $350 as well as the custody of the children. She wants all of the community property and lists as much as she knows of his estate, which is valued at under $200,000.

A remarked, however, that in the head of a large and successful business.

"OH YOU, BILL."

The infatuation for Miss Grieg is stated as having begun in January, 1912, and Mrs. Paff calls attention to his giving her a very expensive birthday present last March. Although most of the complaint confines itself to charges revolving about the head of the affair, alleged, Mrs. Paff says that in the presence of her children her spouse called her a hatchet-faced monkey and referred disparagingly to her conduct while she lived in Alameda. Another thing she objected to was his custom of coming out at night and saying to her, "Oh you, Bill!"

The case will be heard before Superior Judge Zook, who has granted $100 a month temporary alimony and a restraining order to prevent the architect from disposing of any of his property. It is understood that Miss Grieg is coming here next Saturday.

Factory Employee Meets Grewsome Death in Elevator Accident Across Bay

Mrs. E. Boyankoff Attempts to Climb on Machine While It Is in Motion

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—In an elevator accident at the factory of Charles Harley & Company, 650 Seventh street, early this afternoon, Mrs. Emma Boyankoff was instantly killed, her head being completely severed from the body.

The woman was decapitated in attempting to climb on a large freight lift while it was in motion, her head being caught between the machine and the iron guard on the shaft. The remains were taken to the Central Emergency Hospital at once on account of the panic-stricken condition of other employees of the factory.

Mrs. Boyankoff, whose husband is at present in the country, had been employed in the factory seven months. She resided on Kansas street and was about 33 years old.

Broken Ice Floes Prevent Rescue of Captain Schroeder

Marooned Skipper in Behring Sea Subsisting on Beans and Sugar Awaiting Help

NOME, Alaska, April 10.—The breakup of the ice in Behring strait is preventing the rescue of Captain William Schroeder, master of the wrecked whaling schooner Morris, who is marooned on Big Diomed Island, where he was left by the other survivors of the wreck of the Morris and the schooner Kittiwake, which were destroyed by an ice pack off the Siberian coast last fall. Johan Koren, who was in command of the scientific expedition sent out on the Kittiwake by John E. Thayer of Boston, and other members of the party made their way across the ice from the island to the Alaska mainland last month, but Captain Schroeder was too weak to accompany them.

Captain Schroeder is subsisting on beans and sugar. Reports received here said the fleet is falling off his hands and feet and it is feared he will die if the rescuers do not reach him soon. Native boatmen are making every effort to take him off, but the icefields prevent the boatmen from landing. A fast dog team is held ready at Cape Prince of Wales to bring Captain Schroeder to Nome as soon as the boatmen get him across to the mainland.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., April 10.—"Help yourself!" has been the greeting with which proprietors of the stores in this city of 26,000 persons have met their customers since the clerks struck early in the week for higher wages and better working conditions, and the customers have been obliged to help themselves. The proprietors have depended on the honesty of buyers who have selected what they wanted and paid the proprietor, often the only one of the working force left in the establishment. Scenes in dry-goods stores, where women customers measured their own fabrics and selected their dresses often brought about most amusing complications. LETTER DISPELS THEORY OF DUEL

"To Die for Love Is to Have Lived," Wrote Brown Murderer.

"To die for love is to have truly lived." This was the farewell message and brief explanation left by George Uchida, a Japanese musician, to tell the reason for his act in murdering Annie Pierce, to whom he had promised marriage, and in then taking his own life. The message was the postscript of a letter written a few minutes before his death to an American woman who had befriended him, and whose name he asked to have protected from publicity.

The discovery that the girl to whom he had given his love was faithless to him, drove Uchida to murder her and then take his own life yesterday afternoon in the little room he occupied in the home of Mrs. Hui Moku, 605 Market street. The girl was Annie Pierce, alias Dixie Lawrence, alias Dixie Lawrence, who despite the fact that she had been graduated from her high school, had known for many months the sordid life of the underworld in its most brutal features.

RELATIVES BOWED IN SORROW. The bodies of the girl and her Japanese lover lay at the morgue today, while N. M. Pierce, of Baker, Ore., and F. E. Pierce, of Haines, Ore., brother and father of the girl, are surviving over the tragedy. The bodies of the girl and her Japanese lover lay at the morgue today, while N. M. Pierce, of Baker, Ore., and F. E. Pierce, of Haines, Ore., brother and father of the girl, are surviving over the tragedy.

SIX FAREWELL LETTERS. Six farewell letters were found in the clear and scholarly handwriting of the Japanese musician. Three were to Japanese friends, among them being his music teacher in Berkeley, Professor Sanguro Ito, and there were two Americans, two of these being two women. Each of the letters bore a short farewell message and wishes for the health and prosperity of the friends to whom they were addressed. Only in one letter was there contained any explanation of the plan of the musician to take his life, and that was in the short sentence: "To die for love is to have truly lived."

TRAGEDY IS PITIFUL. A pitiful tragedy was displayed in the room of the Japanese to the police who rushed to the scene yesterday afternoon. The room indicated the refinement of the Japanese lover, photographs and pictures of the great violinists of the world, among them Joachim, Louis Spohr, Ole Bull, Mischa Elman, Fritz Kreisler and others, being framed about the walls, and a large clock of violin and piano classical music, being contained in a rack. Over the mantle was Uchida's violin and bow.

WOMAN DIED FIRST. Between the two lay a revolver with all six chambers discharged. The woman was dead and had apparently breathed her last many minutes before the Japanese took his own life. The police are in doubt whether Uchida after murdering the woman, calmly wrote the farewell letters found on the bureau. But the body of the woman was almost cold when the police arrived, while Uchida was still breathing. His revolver was clasped in his right hand.

LEFT UNSIGNED LETTER. Another unsigned letter which the police believe was written in the room a short time prior to the fatal shooting is not addressed, but evidently it was the intention of the writer to send it to Pierce at Haines, Ore. It reads: "Dear Anna, I am writing you a short note to tell you that I am still thinking of you and love you the same as I always did. Have been here since Friday, so most probably there is a letter from you. How are you all getting along? Having fine weather here." The letter is unsigned.

GEORGE UCHIDA AND ANNIE PIERCE, WHOM HE MURDERED.—Photos by Bushnell.

THE police arrived, while Uchida was still breathing. His revolver was clasped in his right hand. Ten shots had been fired, according to the number of discharged cartridges in the revolver. Uchida received two wounds, one in the jaw and the other in the temple. He had apparently fired and only slightly wounded himself the first time, and had then fired the second shot.

THE young woman feared Uchida is evident from a letter addressed to her father, F. E. Pierce, of Haines, Ore. The letter, which was dated "West Oakland, April 10," and reads: "Dear F. E. I came very near being killed last night, as a Jap was after me with a gun. I killed him out of some money and promised to marry him. I was scared for a while."

U. S. STEAMER LINE ALONG COAST IS PROJECTED

Bill in Congress Provides for an Appropriation of $6,000,000.

Passenger and Freight Vessels Would Connect With Panama Railroad.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—A bill directing the government to establish and operate a line of passenger and freight steamers along the Pacific coast in connection with steamers along the Atlantic coast and the Panama railroad was introduced today by Representative Stephens of California. An appropriation of $6,000,000 for at least six vessels is proposed.

The Senate finance committee has determined not to have hearings on the tariff bill. Manufacturers in many lines of industry have appealed to Chairman Simmons and other members of the committee for an opportunity to present arguments against the rates proposed in the Underwood bill. The Senate committee members take the position, however, that the hearings conducted by the House ways and means committee in January were sufficiently thorough to cover virtually all the points the Senate needs to consider in connection with the tariff revision.

The Senate was not in session today and members continued the study of the tariff bill in private. House Democrats met to resume consideration of the tariff bill in caucus when the House adjourned. The chemical schedule having been approved exactly as written by the ways and means committee, the earthen and glassware schedule was next considered.

MAJORITY SUPPORTS TARIFF. The House Democrats have demonstrated that a good working majority is supporting Chairman Underwood and the ways and means committee and this seems to indicate that the schedules eventually will ratify the schedules as presented, including free raw wool and the 25 per cent cut in sugar, with the provision for its going on the free list in three years.

There are assurances, however, that such a result will not be accomplished without a fight. Opposition forces are preparing for a struggle for a duty on raw wool and to eliminate the free sugar proviso.

WANTS FREE SUGAR SOONER. After a conference today with President Wilson Representative Hardwick of Georgia declared he would submit to the House caucus an amendment to the tariff bill to put sugar on the free list in March, 1916, instead of three years from the date of the passage of the bill, as now proposed. Hardwick predicted a fight for free sugar in the House and told the president he believed it to be discriminatory to give sugar growers three years' time to adjust themselves while other products were immediately to become free.

Democratic members of the finance committee held another meeting today to further consider their program. The wish of President Wilson for early action on the Underwood bill and a few changes in its rates were discussed.

PLANS CANAL-OPENING PARADE. An international parade at the opening of the Panama canal was proposed today by Representative Coppley in a resolution to authorize President Wilson to invite foreign nations to participate in such an event.

The resolution would direct that the battleship Oregon have the honor of heading such a parade commencing its historic and record-breaking dash around the Horn to join the American fleet at Santiago during the war with Spain. The parade would start from Hampton Roads and pass through the canal. Four constitutional amendments were introduced in the House today. One, proposed by Representative E. C. Burton, provides for the direct election of President and Vice-President, that candidates be nominated by direct primary and elected for a single term of seven years. Another, by Representative Bartholdt, would limit the tenure of office of the President to two terms of four years each.

Exactly the same tea has been sold for a half century, and is now sold to the most discriminating tea drinkers in the world, including the Emperor of Germany, the King of Bulgaria and tens of thousands of others in Europe and America.

Representative Kahn proposed a constitutional amendment giving Congress power to grant, protect and regulate the exclusive right to adopt and use trade marks. Representative Neely proposed an amendment to provide for popular election of United States district judges every six years.

A Lincoln memorial highway from Boston to San Francisco was proposed in a bill introduced today by Representative Taylor of Colorado. It would run through New York, Washington, Springfield, Ill., and Denver, and be controlled by a highway commission composed of the governors of all the states in the Union. Two-thirds of the cost would be paid by the states through which it would pass and one-third by the federal government.

Representative Murdoch, the Progressive leader in the House, wants clothing manufacturers who mark goods "all wool" when they are not fitted and labeled. He put in a bill today proposing a series of labels ranging from "pure wool" to "mixed goods," which would hold manufacturers responsible for proper labeling of their goods. The penalties range from $100 to $1000 fine and a year in prison.

CHILDREN WORK FOR BOND ISSUE

Berkeley Youngsters Organize in Bands and Literally Drum Up Voters.

BERKELEY, April 10.—Passengers alighting from the suburban trains at Berkeley station yesterday and this afternoon found awaiting them a group of earnest children of that section of the city intent on persuading them to support the bonds. The children made their plea for the playground bonds. They were armed with drums, horns and banners, and in several cases accompanied the voters as far as their homes, continuing their arguments for the playground issue.

Four meetings in favor of the bond issues to be voted upon Saturday were held last evening in different parts of the city. The executive committee on bonds, consisting of Mayor J. Stitt Wilson, Professor J. C. Merriam, W. L. Drury, J. H. Brown, Fred A. Noyes, and F. F. Brown, have issued the following statement, containing in brief the arguments for the bonds:

"On Saturday, April 12, the citizens of Berkeley will vote on the question of extending the city's sewerage system, and improving the playgrounds. It is vitally important that each of these bond issues should carry.

SEWERS.
"All the sewage of Berkeley is dumped through 10 small sewers on the bay shore just at the water line, instead of being carried out into deep water. The condition of filth there today is almost unspeakable. At any time an epidemic may result from this unsanitary condition. The sewer bonds provide for extending all of the 10 present inlets into three large outfall sewers that will carry the sewage into deep water. The present inlets are so small as to accommodate the flow of water in heavy storms. As a result, in heavy rainfall, sewage manholes overflow and the sewage flows over the streets. The sewer bonds provide for extending the sewerage system to the bay shore, and the dry season following. The sewer bonds provide new sewers large enough to carry off all the sewage and rainfall, even in time for the heaviest rain.

PLAYGROUNDS.
"Today Berkeley has only one small playground park of the city hall. In all of Berkeley and in most of the surrounding cities, there are no playgrounds. The children there play at all times and go to the streets. In the city of Berkeley, the playground bonds will provide for the construction of 12 playgrounds, which will serve the double purpose of extending the school system and providing room for play. Berkeley needs the playgrounds today. She will never again be able to get these lands as cheaply as today.

FIRE.
"Today practically all of Berkeley north of Berryman, all of the Claremont district and most of South Berkeley is without any fire protection whatever. It is proposed to extend the fire bonds to purchase a new fire house at Cedar and Euclid, one on Josephine and Berkeley, one in the Claremont district and one in South Berkeley. It is also proposed to put a modern central station at Durant and Shattuck. Needed modern fire equipment will be provided. All of these fire bonds are necessary for the safety of the city.

THE COST.
"These three bond issues aggregating $305,000 will the first year only increase our tax rate 16 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation, and each year thereafter the cost will increase. It will at the end of the first year cost the city $100,000 per year. In reality the bond tax will just about replace the city's present tax rate for the first year. So that if all the bonds are carried the tax rate for next year will be almost exactly the same as now.

"All citizens are urged to vote in favor of all the bonds."

The following bond rallies are to be held this evening: La Conte School; speakers, Mayor J. Stitt Wilson, Prof. J. C. Merriam and Mrs. Walter Brown. Dr. Richard G. Brown's home, 2831 Benveniste avenue; speakers, F. H. Clark, Mrs. Walter Brown and S. N. Wyckoff. R. O. Moody's home, 3561 University street; speakers, R. O. Moody, E. E. Keyes and Mrs. Agnes Claypole Moody.

SOCIALISTS OUT AGAINST HEYWOOD

Charles H. Spear Issues Statement Complimenting Former Opponent.

BERKELEY, April 10.—W. H. Frank D. Heywood, brother of Charles D. Heywood, candidate for mayor, started on the platform beside him, Herman I. Stern, declared at a meeting of the Socialists last Tuesday night that the Socialists of Berkeley could not support Charles D. Heywood for mayor. Stern, who is president of the board of education, has been recognized as one of the leaders of the Socialists in this city.

"Heywood is figuratively at the head of the party of our political opponents," declared Stern. "While the position of the Socialists during the remainder of the campaign is to be neutral, the Socialists officially are opposed to his election."

Despite the fact that the meeting showed opposition to his brother, Frank D. Heywood, also a member of the local school board, appeared on the platform with the declaration that he intended openly supporting the Socialist cause. An appreciation of the worth of one of his former rivals was given by Charles H. Spear, candidate for mayor, today when he paid a high compliment to Herbert F. Briggs, a candidate in the first election of Briggs' campaign methods and his personal worth both received praise from Spear.

"It seems to me," said Spear this morning, "that one can hardly pass without a word of compliment the manner in which Mr. Briggs conducted his campaign and the personal worth of the man. Such an appreciation is especially timely at this moment when Mr. Briggs has just terminated the affairs of his campaign, and it is especially demanded, too, of a man who has opposed him for the suffrage of Berkeley. Briggs, with his courage and his convictions, and fought for them in a gentlemanly, honest manner. I believe Berkeley citizens may confidently expect to hear from him again as a valuable member of Berkeley's body of citizens."

The official count of ballots cast in Saturday's election has disclosed slight error in the semi-official returns from Philo Phelps, Socialist candidate for mayor. The error was made in the count of precinct No. 8, where he had been credited with 122 votes, whereas the correct number was 113. This made his total 185.

TO ASSIST IN LIFE COURSE OF PUPILS

ALAMEDA, April 10.—Superintendent of Schools Will C. Wood is sending out to the parents of the eighth grade pupils a circular letter in which it is set forth that great importance attaches to the question of selecting for Councilman Phillips course and offering vocational guidance.

That young people often waste much valuable time by reason of accepting the first opportunity offered in the business world without considering their fitness for the occupation or the future it offers, is the gist of the letter. An offer is made to assist in the selection of careers for the pupils and a card is enclosed for the purpose of submitting the necessary information to the individual pupil to the school department.

McCarran, Socialist candidates for city commissioners, and Mrs. Emma Gilbert, W. F. Drury and J. Wilson Person, Socialist candidates for school directors.

MADE MEMBER OF S. P. EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

NEW YORK, April 10.—Charles W. Harkness of New York was elected today a member of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company at the annual meeting of the board of directors. For Age-Marred Skins and Dull, Streaky Hair

(From American Press.)
Fine lines and that aged condition of the skin are caused by pore-clogging powders and creams. These should be discarded for a skin cream which seems a part of skin when on and is easily made at home at little cost by dissolving 4 ounces sulphuric acid in pint which haze or redness will disappear. The addition of glycerine. This face-lotion protects the skin against the ravages of sun and wind, removes tan, freckles, closes pores, and keeps the skin healthy and promotes an abundant growth.

An invigorating and pleasing shampoo can easily be made by dissolving a teaspoonful of cantharides in a cup of hot water. Wash the hair with this mixture, then with water and soap. After rinsing, your hair will dry quickly and evenly, with a soft and silky softness truly charming. Cantharides, which costs little at the drugists, removes dandruff, makes the scalp healthy and promotes an abundant growth.

SACRED BUTTERFLY STILL TREMBLES

Specimen Hundreds of Years Old Is Observed to Move When Sunlight Strikes.

A case of "Suspended animation," now attracting the attention of the scientific world, which may throw considerable light on the subject, and which is largely being watched by university savants, has been discovered in a sacred Indian butterfly, one of the few remaining in the entire world, which forms a portion of the Ross C. Winslow entomological collection at the Chamber of Commerce. The great butterfly, which is sacred in India, is said to be over 400 years old.

The phenomenon of the butterfly, which Indian legend says was one of those which entered into the body of the god Brahma, was first discovered by Professor C. M. Wentworth, of the University of California, who, while inspecting the collection, discerned a slight tremor in the wings of the beautiful insect. Calling Ed Boggie, secretary of the manufacturers' committee, who chanced to be present, he pointed out the movement. With a magnifying glass the two examined the beautiful insect. For several days the two have been watching. Every morning, between 10 and 11 o'clock, when the sunlight strikes the butterfly, its wings flutter faintly. Slowly, and for an almost imperceptible distance, the great wings move, as the great butterfly, as if with the feeble spark of life still remained faintly struggles to escape from one in which it is in the glass case which, for many years, has imprisoned it.

CAME FROM INDIA.
The butterfly has been in the chamber of commerce, with a collection of moths and insects from all parts of the world, ever since 1840, when it was brought to this country by a Hindu while traveling in India, secured the specimen from the Raj Mahal in Agra, where the Hindus bow and worship these great insects, believing that they will whisper the prayers they hear into the ears of the chief god of the Hindu religion. The butterfly's body was kept in the great "Taj," and was reputed to have lived over 400 years. It is a well known fact that this species of insect often attains that age.

The insect is one of the most beautiful known to the species. It is the size of a small bird. Its wings are, at the roots, colored a luminous bronze, delicately shading into blue, and tipped with black. It is one of the most valuable in the collection, and are therefore extremely hard to obtain.

SUSPENDED ANIMATION.
The whole explanation of the phenomenon, according to Professor Wentworth's explanation to Boggie, is that it is a case of suspended animation, a recognized fact, in the case of the lower organisms. The pin impaling the glorious butterfly does not pierce a vital spot, and the faint spark of life, which has abided in the body for so many years, may abide for hundreds of years more, according to the belief of the custodian of the collection. Several other rare cases of the same kind have been reported.

One of the reasons that the butterfly is worshipped in India is its longevity. The butterflies in the temple outlast generations of Brahmins.

"Professor Wentworth is intensely interested," said Boggie, "and has been here, with a magnifying glass and note book almost every day. He wanted to take the butterfly away with him, but we couldn't allow that. He has been very kind in letting us see it."

It is known as the Sacred Indian Royal Butterfly, and is said to be practically extinct in India. It is of huge size.

A report on the butterfly is being framed by Professor Wentworth, according to which, if the investigations are completed, will issue a bulletin on the matter.

To Darken Gray Hair

An Excellent Recipe That Can Be Prepared in Your Own Home.

The problem of how to get rid of gray hair without resorting to the store preparations that leave the hair sticky and their use easily detected, can be very satisfactorily solved by using a simple preparation which you can make in the privacy of your own home. Get, at any drug store, one ounce of bay rum, 14 ounces of glycerine and a small box of Barbo Compound; then dissolve the Barbo Compound in seven ounces of water, add the bay rum and glycerine, and you have a superior mixture that will not only gradually darken your gray hair, but make it soft, glossy and beautiful, remove dandruff and other scalp disorders and defy the most critical observer. It need not be applied oftener than once a week, and after the hair is sufficiently darkened, a single application will be often enough to keep the hair and scalp in good condition. Be sure your drugist gives you Barbo Compound, for no other preparation will do in this recipe. If he has it in stock he can get it from his wholesaler.

Regarding the Japanese in California.

The number of Japanese in California is steadily diminishing. The departures outnumber the arrivals, and the Japanese government is discouraging emigration to the United States in the hope of deflecting it to Korea and Manchuria. The land-holdings of the Japanese in this State are inconsiderable. George Shima is the only large Japanese land-owner in California and the only offense he has committed is making potatoes cheaper and more abundant.

Scant consideration has been given to these two essential facts in the controversy over the alien land bill, although strenuous effort is being made to convey the impression that the Japanese are increasing in this country and that they are extensive buyers of land. The great majority of Japanese in California are engaged in manual labor vocations or are employed in domestic service. Many of them are small shopkeepers and florists and such like. It cannot be said that they depress the wage scale in the skilled trades or exert any appreciable influence on the agricultural industry beyond supplying labor for certain branches of farming.

Therefore, the Legislature is legislating against a danger that is purely imaginary or at most merely contingent.

If the Japanese were coming here in great numbers and were large buyers of land the case would be different. But an imaginary condition is made the predicate for passing a law apparently timed to inflict damage on the Panama-Pacific exposition. The arguments in support of the alien land bill, in many instances, seem designed to enrage and insult the Japanese and make them believe they are objects of popular hatred in America. The measure is of doubtful wisdom at best, and it so happens it is presented at an inopportune time and in a manner calculated to give the impression that it is a punitive proposition directed at the Japanese as a people.

Roosevelt threatened to call out the Federal troops to force Japanese children into the public schools of California, but the very men who excused and defended the threat are now urging the passage of a bill, which, under the circumstances, is merely an expression of race hostility. Under pretense of protecting the lands of this State from alien ownership and tenantry, the Japanese nation is being wantonly slapped in the face. Averting an imaginary danger is the pretext for giving legislative expression to a sentiment of hostility to the Japanese as a people. Even if the alleged danger were real, it would do no harm to let the matter lie over for another two years and not take a hasty step that probably will cause the Japanese to withdraw from participation in the San Francisco exposition.

Nearly all the Bull Moose journals in California are dolefully crying that the cuts in protective duties the Democrats propose will inflict great injury on California's industries. Yet a few months ago these same journals were denouncing the policy of protection and demanding a revision of the tariff downward. They denounced the Payne-Aldrich law with extreme virulence and marked for defeat every man who voted for that measure, exceptions being made in special instances by newspapers having particular reasons for supporting some Congressman in violation of the general rule they laid down. Now tariff revision downward is coming home and they are squealing like stuck pigs. They strenuously object to taking their own medicine, which medicine, by the way, was exclusively intended for the other fellow. When it comes to wool, citrus fruits, raisins, prunes, olives, nuts, etc., the Payne-Aldrich duties are good enough for them. Every mother's son of them is a standpatter when it comes to their local industries. Protection is good for them, but bad for other people. The quack always refuses to take his own prescriptions.

Lawlessness and Sex Immunity.

Commenting on a recent article in THE TRIBUNE discussing the plea of sex immunity put forward by the English suffragettes when arrested for violating the law by breaking shop windows, destroying letters in the mail boxes and burning buildings, a contemporary remarks that women will not cease to be women when they become citizens in the full sense.

It would be lamentable if they did. But the point we were making is, that women are not justified in committing crime because they are women. Because they are denied the ballot is no excuse for destroying private property and committing unlawful acts which endanger the lives of people who are taking no part in the suffrage controversy.

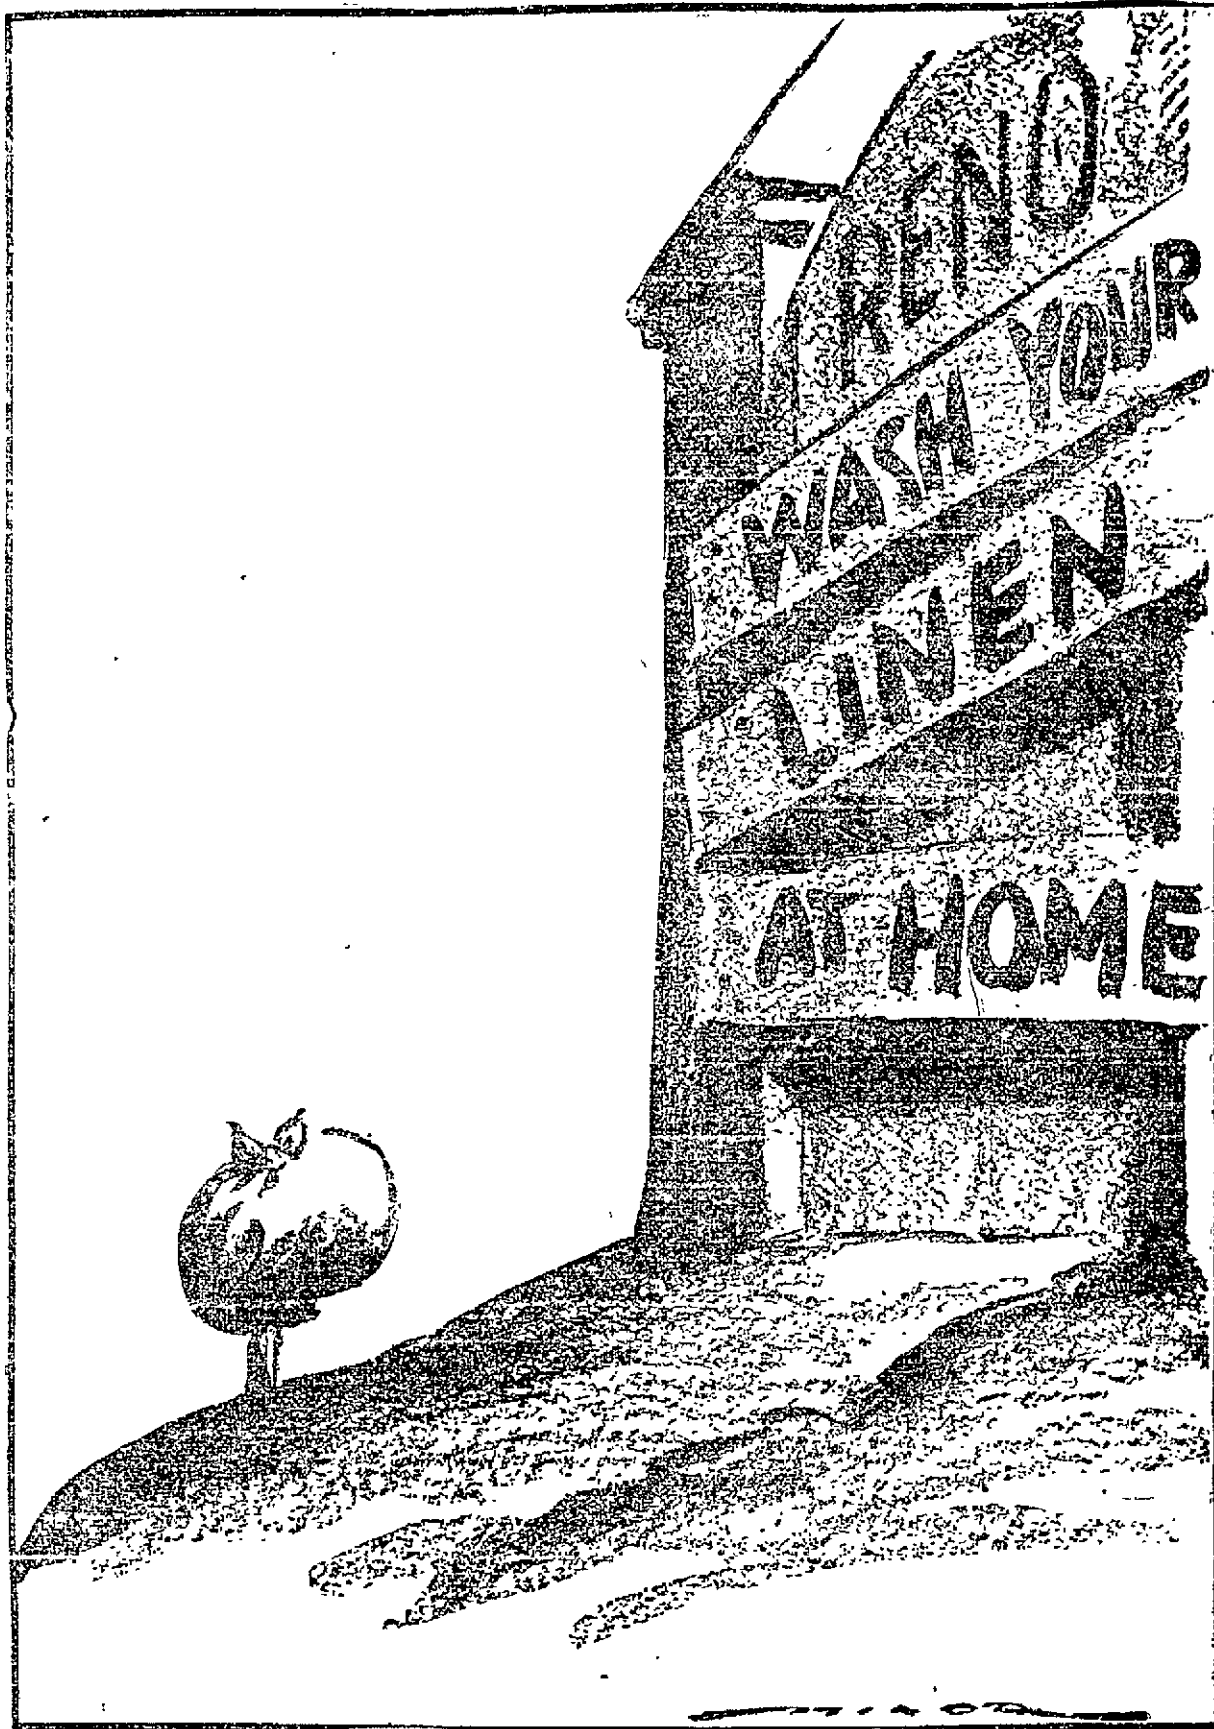

If they think burning and dynamiting buildings and assaulting public officials are proofs of their fitness for the responsibilities of citizenship the suffragettes are very much mistaken. To say, after committing such lawless and unwomanly acts, "you must not punish us because we are women," is to confess sex weakness and moral irresponsibility. That was the idea we meant to convey, not that women were unsexed by exercising the franchise.

Full measure of responsibility goes with the full rights of citizenship. Sex weakness is not an argument in favor of woman suffrage; quite the contrary, and unfortunately such hysterical acts, indicative of moral irresponsibility, as Mrs. Pankhurst has been convicted of, lower women in the respect of men and do not increase the hope that women will use the ballot with the sober judgment that they should.

Senator Perkins' successor will be elected by popular vote. Hereafter the Legislature will have nothing to do with electing Senators, the Constitutional amendment requiring Senators to be elected by popular vote having been ratified by two-thirds of the States. Connecticut was the last to fall into line. The change is likely to upset some nicely laid plans in this State. In future jobs cannot be traded for votes for Senator. The commercial possibilities of politics are becoming sadly curtailed. Perhaps some of our local statesmen may find it necessary to go to work.

The Legislature is to be congratulated on showing a liberal and enlightened spirit in providing for the needs of the State University. THE TRIBUNE would be more than pleased if it could say with truth that our lawmakers were as broad-minded and patriotic in other directions. Still they are to be commended for the service they have rendered the cause of higher education and vocational training. They have given scientific horticulture an impetus, encouragement and support that will be of great benefit to the State in future. It is a large credit mark in their favor.

RENO'S GATES FINALLY CLOSED

—ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH.

George Gross an Ideal Auditor.

It is as honorable for the citizens of Oakland as it is for the City Auditor that George Gross is not opposed for re-election. Mr. Gross has been so efficient and popular in his present official position that no complaint is heard. No one dares to be a candidate against him, for it would be hopeless to enter the lists as an opposition candidate.

The situation is ideal, and it is gratifying from every point of view. The city is getting a service that can hardly be improved upon, and Mr. Gross has the satisfaction of knowing that his efforts to perform his duties in a business-like manner are appreciated.

It is difficult to say more in commendation of a public officer. Popular approval could hardly be more worthily bestowed or be given a more convincing expression. As the watchdog of the municipal treasury, George Gross is distinctly the right man in the right place. The city is fortunate to have so competent, courageous, upright and courteous an official in its service.

Senator Williams, a Progressive from the trans-Tehachapi frost belt, arose on his hind legs to say that the saloons in San Francisco must be closed at 1 o'clock a. m. "To save our boys and girls." Do the boys and girls of Southern California run around San Francisco after midnight? Senator Williams might try keeping them at home. To sell liquor to minors at any hour of the day or night is a criminal offense punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, and the loss of license usually follows a conviction. The 1 o'clock closing law is obviously not designed to protect boys and girls, particularly those from the truancy-school section Senator Williams represents, but is intended to send the people of San Francisco to bed early. It is a shot at San Francisco and the exposition—that's all.

HERE'S AN EQUINE WONDER

A discussion of a peculiarly interesting character took place at a recent meeting of the French Philosophical Society in Paris. This society has greatly interested itself in the "educated horses of Elberfeld." The animals are the property of M. Krall and he has taught them reading, writing and arithmetic, or claims to have done so. The horses can extract the square and cube roots of numbers, performing the operation of multiplication, addition and subtraction with these involve. The French society has endeavored to solve the problem presented by these remarkable quadrupeds, and invited M. Claparde, the distinguished professor of psychology at the University of Geneva, to address them on the subject. M. Claparde said that since he had seen the horse two Italian savants had obtained a correct answer from them at a time when their trainer was absent. No hypothesis, he went on, can satisfactorily explain the extraordinary fact of which he had a witness. Even if there were a trick, it involved great intelligence on the part of the horses.—London News.

SEEKS PEARL FORTY YEARS

There is a little old man in a faded gray suit and a battered brown derby hat in South street, New York City, who has been looking for a pearl for forty years. From the time he began this business he has had the idea that he was to find in a shell a pearl so valuable as to form his provision for a rainy day. For 40 years he has carefully searched every shell he has opened and he has never found his prize. He has a collection of shells that of a crank at a present age. The instinct of hope is strong in the human heart that it will eventually find a pearl in its oyster shell. This man in his humble occupation found a pearl in his oyster every day in the wages he earned or the profit he made, and if he is a man of character, or if he has supported a family, he has done much better for himself and the world than if he had found the valuable pearl. The steady occupations of life, however humble, have a better provision in them for a rainy day than the accidents of fortune, which are as scarce as pearls in the oysters of a restaurant.—Christian Herald.

Twenty Years Ago Today

Henry Maloon, a contractor and builder, has been appointed a license inspector by Mayor Pardee. Maloon, with his family, have been residents of Oakland for many years.

William Ingraham Kip, Bishop of California, died surrounded by his family and brother priests of the Episcopal faith.

Mrs. J. P. Smith of Livermore, entertained several of her friends with a progressive whist party. Those present were: Dr. and Mrs. Keys, Mr. and Mrs. McKown, Dr. and Mrs. Savage, Mrs. J. P. Smith, Mrs. M. E. Black, Mrs. Stevenson, Dr. Bankers and F. L. Fowler.

Mrs. P. D. Brown of Oakland, president of the Woman's Occidental Board of Foreign Missions, had charge of the exercises held yesterday at Trinity Presbyterian church, San Francisco.

The Stockton and Oakland teams have opened the baseball season.

Prosecuting Attorney Lin Church is without an office in the city hall at present. Formerly he was in with the mayor but under the new regime he must find new offices and as every room in the city hall is occupied it is a problem where he will be put. Chief Schaffer and the bailiff of the police court, Sam Matchell, are little better off, having a small room apportioned to them.

S. N. WOOD PALACE OPENS TOMORROW

Great New Department Store Will Be Mecca for Thousands.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—A new palace of finery will open its doors for a magnificent reception and exhibition on Friday night of this week when S. N. Wood & Co. will play the host in their 1913 department store at Fourth and Market streets. The entire front of the building has been changed, the interior remodeled and re-decorated, and the important corner in the heart of the retail district is now adorned with an establishment which will be another show place for visitors in the busy years which will precede the opening of the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

It is expected that San Francisco was entitled to the best store and to the most elaborate fittings and furnishings that could be obtained, the management of S. N. Wood & Co. set about the decorating and improving of their establishment shortly after the first of the year. The whole is now completed and tomorrow night will witness a dazzling display of finery and an entertainment in which professional talent will be combined with addresses by prominent citizens of San Francisco.

MAYOR TO PRESIDE.
Mayor Rolph is expected to preside and it is possible that Governor Johnson will make an address. The executive will not come here from Sacramento, but in the event that he indicates his willingness to take part, will make his speech from his own home in the Capital City. By means of the cat-o-phone the voice of the governor will be magnified four times and by a phonographic arrangement his words will be heard by the assembled crowd.

This is only one of the numerous features in store for those who attend the celebration. There will be prizes and trophies, a chance to show some ingenuity, some living models to exhibit the latest fashions from Paris and to set off millinery creations from the world's style factory.

BUILD MONSTER CAKE.
One of the most interesting of the exhibits will be an enormous cake which will be placed in a show window tomorrow morning. This creation of the baker's art is to be five feet in diameter and two feet thick, and its core will be revealed in these days of the high price of living when it is known that 3600 eggs have been used in its baking. The cake will weigh between 500 and 600 pounds. On Monday it will be cut and a piece given to each customer. Evidently the frosting will be five pounds, each one of which will be redeemable for a valuable prize.

The firm of S. N. Wood & Co. was started in 1886 and the venerable clothier who has given his name to the concern is still alive and well, although now on the retired list. The concern has stores in San Francisco and Oakland, with a factory in New York and a special tailoring shop at 1035 Market street here. It has since the earthquake and fire era expanded its store and now a comprehensive department store devoted to clothing and headgear of men, women and children.

THREE TONS OF GLASS.
Nearly $50,000 has been expended by the management in making the double show windows in front of the store, allowing a parade of shoppers between the glass show windows. In all, three tons of white glass have been used in the construction of the display section, while on the inside a number of skylights have been put in which measure 45x33 feet and make the interior as light as day. The display for showery models after famous New York stores, have been installed and the whole presents a most beautiful and symmetrical appearance.

In giving their reasons for the improvements which have been made, the managers declared today that they felt that as their store occupied such a prominent corner they should make it as attractive as possible and be prepared for the enormous influx of visitors soon to swarm hither.

WINTON MAN BACK FROM STATE TOUR

San-Joaquin Valley Roads in Very Fair Condition, Is Report.

(By EDMUND CRINNON.)

That work on the new state highway through the San Joaquin valley is proceeding rapidly is the claim of T. A. Skinner, sales manager for the Winton Motor Car Company of San Francisco, who has returned from an extended tour through the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys, having visited the various agencies for the Winton Six in the interior of the state.

Skinner reports conditions throughout the valleys, with the exception of the orange belt in the southern San Joaquin valley, as being very favorable, with it will undoubtedly result in the purchase of many more cars in that portion of the state this season. He says:

"The recent rains have encouraged the farmers, and indications for a prosperous spring season are very good. The roads are in fair condition with the exception of a few places where it is necessary to make detours on account of the new highway, which is rapidly being completed. In fact, about thirty miles are under construction, and the remainder of the state is in excellent condition. Any one contemplating making a tour of the San Joaquin valley should take the route which is in excellent shape, with the exception of a short stretch at the bottom of the grade, and tourists should be able to travel in comfort all the way to Eureka, and Porterville, as far as this route better direct from Tulare. That things are certainly prosperous in the San Joaquin valley is evinced by the number of new towns springing up, among which are Chowchilla, California, Ford, and Ducor. The road from Fresno to Coalinga is also in very good condition, and the greater part of the distance being almost level enables the motorist to get his car out of the mud."

On this trip, which covered over 1000 miles, Skinner was accompanied a great part of the way by E. B. Waterman, the Winton representative in Fresno. The entire trip was made without a single puncture or other mishap of any kind.

GOOD ROADS AN ASSET.
"A system of state roads will develop a state and will bring back to the state interest on the money expended by the increased value of taxable property," says E. B. Waterman, president of the Pioneer Automobile Company, agents for the Winton cars in the state.

"State roads will bring increased travel and result in the building of hotels, summer homes and increase rural population. Motor car manufacturers are watching the advance of the good roads law, and thousands who want machines will not purchase because of road conditions. The construction of inter-county, main market roads, and national highways will encourage every small community to improve its local roads."

"Our roads have been constructed with a view to making more miles with the funds available for road building than to construct durable roads."

"There should be co-operation between the farmers, the business men, the professional men, the automobile owners, and the people generally."

"To patrol the roads would simply mean that the improved roads of the country would be carefully guarded and kept in order by section men appointed for that purpose. These men should be equipped to repair slight damages, open drains, remove obstructions, patch holes in the surface and compelled to enforce traffic regulations."

PRICES INCREASED ON COLD STORAGE PRODUCTS
WASHINGTON, April 10.—Higher prices for cold storage products have been the rule ever since the industry because commercially important as shown by data for more than thirty years back, collected by the Department of Agriculture. George E. Holmes, chief of the division of production and distribution of the department, has discovered from a comprehensive study of these figures that during the years 1902 to 1911 there was a "general but not invariable rise of price to a higher level," as compared with prices in preceding years before cold storage was a developed industry.

As to uniformity of prices he finds that "the contention of the cold storage interests that cold storage has counted for uniformity of prices is largely true, although it is not true for all commodities nor for comparisons of years and periods of years."

There is a tendency towards such uniformity, he says, in dressed poultry, butter, eggs and mutton, while the reverse is true as to fresh beef and fresh pork.

DEAD, DESPITE SIGNS

DENVER, April 10.—Alonzo Thompson, 51 years old, millionaire, spiritist and war time auditor of Missouri, who firmly believed ghostly advice that he could not die before he was 95 years old, died yesterday.

For six weeks his belief in his remaining span of life supported him in resisting pneumonia and an incidental operation for the removal of a rib. A year ago his doctor, who had been told by his wife and son were conspiring to obtain his fortune led to Mrs. Thompson's divorce decree.

The aged millionaire, although three times married, was planning to follow his "guides" into a fourth matrimonial venture.

KENNEL CLUB ENDS SUCCESSFUL SHOW

Prizes Distributed to Pedigreed Bow-wows of High Degree.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—Today, the last of the Golden Gate Kennel Club's fourth annual show at the Auditorium, was a record breaker as far as attendance is concerned. Everybody was there and everybody enjoyed every minute of the show. The four-day show, which was the fourth of its kind in the city, was a success in every way. The only criticism was that it was held on a street so crowded with traffic and held themselves accordingly.

Among the entries the most attention in the prize ring yesterday were collies, bulldogs, Arabians and Boston terriers.

Among the entries the most attention was given to the champion, Pretty Boy, by N. L. Smith, a dog of the champion class with Dr. J. E. Schachtel's Betsy Ross second.

L. J. Plance's Araba Tempest was awarded the J. W. Lillenthal cup put up by her best friends in the show, Keston and Phipps, and took the cup for best opposite sex.

DACHSHUND SHOW.

The comedy feature of the afternoon developed when the Pedigreed classes were put through the ring show drill. Dr. C. D. McGowan's Irish water spaniel, Rush, and Dr. T. A. Leonard's Labrador were the winners in the open class. Rush also won the prize cup for best of the breed. Dr. H. E. Rodley of Chico won the red ribbon in the limit class.

The cocker spaniel judging was closed throughout. Miss E. H. Tompkins' black dog, Highlights, came in for the Mayor Rolph trophy for best of the breed shown. Besides winning the J. A. C. trophy and a club medal, Highlights, exhibited by Mayor Rolph, was awarded the prize cup for the best cocker spaniel other than black.

The show will close tonight with a grand parade of the champions and prize winners.

The usual feature of past shows, the awarding of the special trophy for the best dog in the show, as well as competition for other unclassified specials, will be omitted this year, the American Kennel Club having announced that prizes not in breed and class competition.

GOLDIE'S HUSBAND GOT HIS EVIDENCE

When Actress Was Discovered
With Another Man Husband Merely Told to Go.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Ardin B. Cline was granted a decree of divorce today by Justice Gleeson. Goldie Rinehart, known to theater-goers as "Zeez," managed to be satisfied with Cline until Jinxie Van happened along in 1908, and the team of Van and Rinehart was formed. Goldie thereupon decided that as the team "went so big" on the stage it ought to "go well" off.

A detective for Cline told this story today to the court:

"On the morning of January 23 last, the detectives accompanied by Cline, knocked on the door of a room at the Hotel Edgewater in West One hundred and Twenty-ninth street. A feminine voice cried out: 'Got up, Van, you lazy lummox, and let those people in.'"

A man opened the door. Cline and the detective walked in. Van then said to Goldie: 'Now you get up, will you, Goldie, and receive these guests.'"

"'Not on your life,' replied Goldie, 'that's just my husband.' Then to Cline she announced: 'Well, daddy, you've got it on me, all right. Now on your way.'"

BOTANISTS TO MEET TO FORM NEW SOCIETY

The botanists of Oakland will meet at the Oakland Public Museum Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock to organize the Oakland Botanical Society, membership in which will be open to all students and residents of the city. The organization came into being as a result of the botanists of the city having decided to form such a society. They wish, however, to have as members all who are interested in the science, and hope that both college and high school botanists and amateur members, as well as older scientists.

BREATHE HYOMEI FOR CATARRH

Health Comes From Knowing How and What to Breathe.

Hardly a day passes without confirmation of the old adage, "Man's Life is in his breath."

Dust laden with disease breeding germs is inhaled by all who use the streets, but disease is not developed unless the germs find conditions suitable for their lodgment and growth. With people having catarrh there is an ideal culture medium for these germs. The irritated membrane and weakened tissues is a hot-bed where germs thrive and multiply.

If you have catarrh or any trouble of the breathing organs causing stopped-up head, sniffles of morning choking, you should use the easiest, simplest and quickest remedy, the direct method of Hyomei. This wonderful medication is taken in with the air you breathe, directly into the lungs, destroying all germs that have been inhaled, repairing any damage they may have worked and so healing and vitalizing the tissues as to render catarrh and germ infection no longer possible.

The remedy used in which drug-laden Hyomei should dispel all doubt as to its curative properties. They offer to refund the price to anyone who will take it.

FINERY SEIZED FOR ALLEGED BIG DEBT

Mrs. Mundy on Way to New York: Her Trunk Is Not.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—Who Mrs. Charles F. Mundy of Seattle is traveling across the Nevada desert toward New York, today, her four trunks and two smaller pieces of baggage, containing the major portion of her clothing, and held in San Francisco until she can pay $1000 which she is alleged to owe to a contractor within the last two or three days.

The White House, by Goods Company, to whom the "Mundy" trunk is being sent, learned late yesterday that Mrs. Mundy, who is the wife of a prominent attorney and chairman of Seattle, was preparing to leave for New York. When the Palace Hotel, where she had been stopping, was visited, the agent of the Goods Company told Mrs. Mundy had not only come, but that her trunks had been sent to the ferry station.

A writ of subpoena against the Southern Pacific was promptly procured and Deputy Sheriff C. E. Scott and Attorney Hugh Keen hurried in a taxi to the station, only to find that the trunks had been sent to Oakland. Then the mighty processes of the law got to work, the writ was served on the head of the trunks at Oakland prevented by telephone. Later they were seized by the White House through its attorney, Percy B. Thomas.

Apply to Treasury Bureaus.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Secretary McAdoo's "gag order" has been extended from the assistant secretaries of the treasury, to whom it originally applied, to every bureau and division chief of that extensive department. Nothing whatever concerning government business there may become known until the secretary's office has passed on the desirability of its disclosure.

Surgeon General Blue of the public health service is forbidden to give out any news whatsoever of the progress of the government's test and investigation of Dr. P. F. Friedmann's tuberculosis vaccine, or to warn the public directly or indirectly of disease or epidemic; the life saving service is forbidden to make known news of a vessel in distress or of measures taken for the relief of an endangered crew. The revenue cutters are forbidden to send public warnings of derelicts in the paths of navigation or give the news of sending one of its ships to a distressed vessel.

RAGMAN'S TRUST IS OBJECT OF COMPLAINT

LOS ANGELES, April 10.—That there is a monopoly on discarded tin cans, bottles, rags and rubbish, constituting a "ragsman's trust," is being maintained in this city by the Great Western Smelting and Refining Company and affiliated organizations, are set forth in a complaint on file in the United States Court here today.

Philip Seagram, who claims to be the "original" Los Angeles junk dealer, is the complainant in the action and avers that the defendant corporations first manipulated a "freeze-out," with him as the victim, and have since maintained an absolute control of the local junk exchange. In consequence, Seagram alleges, he was deprived of an annual net income of $5000 and was damaged in the aggregate sum of $50,000, the amount sought in his complaint.

ENGLISHMEN ARRIVE FROM BRAKEBEAM TRIP

James Watson and Richard Powell, young Englishmen of good families, arrived at the Hotel Metropole, after "bobbing" their way over the greater part of the United States.

They are adopting this means of travel, they say, in order to study American conditions at close quarters and for the benefit of the experience it will give them.

They started several months ago from the eastern side of the continent and have been making a leisurely journey via the brakebeams. They declare their folks in London would be shocked if they knew their own countrymen, but are not worrying, as they are enjoying the trip immensely. Both are graduates of London's Fama College of Westcliff-on-the-Sea, near London.

CHINESE AND OPIUM TAKEN AT SEATTLE

SEATTLE, April 10.—Six Chinese who attempted to steal ashore from the Great Northern steamer Minnesota, were caught early today by immigration officers. Soon after the Chinese were caught, a large quantity of opium was found in the possession of the Minnesota. Five three-lb. tins of opium were found in Stone's possession. This is the third opium seizure made since the Minnesota arrived from the Orient.

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP: 25-CENT 'DANDERINE'

Save Your Hair! Danderine Destroys Dandruff and Stops the Falling Hair at Once; Grows Hair, We Prove It.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous you must use Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its life, and if not overruled it produces a permanent itching of the scalp; the hair roots fall out fast.

What you need is Danderine. It is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate, but get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes later you will find it the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If you are not sure, try it. A 25-cent bottle will truly amaze you.

LIGHTS WILL WINK TO WARN OF THE CURFEW

SACRAMENTO, April 10.—Winking the street lights at 9 a. m., as a curfew for young folks less than 16 years old, will soon be in vogue in Sacramento. Since the curfew siren was discontinued on account of its screech, Chief of Police Johnson says the number of cases referred to the police and the juvenile court have increased. Mrs. Lelia B. Johnson, city commissioner, took the matter up today with the power company to devise an electrical curfew.

CIRCLES HARBOR.
SEATTLE, April 10.—Aviator Milton Bryant in a biplane left Harbor Island and made three complete circuits of the harbor, discharging cylinder-flare fireworks, throwing a 40-foot stream of flame, while the spectators on the shore looked on in amazement. The flight was in the air five minutes, and returned to his hangar guided by his single red light. The night was very dark, and the effect was startling.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS FORECASTS POWER OF WOMEN VOTERS

"Big Steve" Raps Militants and Deplores "Hiking Policy."

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—
"Women in sure to have her say in politics."
After she's been in the game, say, a hundred years, maybe, she'll get up some election day and send one of her sex to the White House.
"She's got a lot to learn in politics, though."

"She can't accomplish any good by maneuvering on the national capital. Those higher affairs are her sex no support."
And as for throwing rocks and substance at police ministers and filling manholes with glue, as her sisters are doing in London, it will lose her more sympathy in her cause than possibly she could ever regain through the more peaceful methods.

There are some of the views of Archibald ("Big Steve") M. Stevenson, old Republican warhorse of Colorado, who was being the roller that flattened out the road in Chicago, and who framed the units that progressivism is permeating the political atmosphere of the entire country. Stevenson, who formerly was attorney for the Denver Tramway Company, and the acknowledged domestic William G. Evans, the old Republican boss of Colorado's metropolis, drifted into San Francisco yesterday from a short sojourn in southern California. He's a guest at the St. Francis hotel, and says his mission here is to visit his son and daughter-in-law.

"And as to the future power of the woman in the party politics?" Stevenson was asked.
"Well, they're to have their day.
We've gotten over the foolish theory that her entrance into public affairs forces her to neglect her home. But what's the use of me telling you anything about women in politics? You are giving them their right to vote in California, as we have done in Colorado, and you can't show where their participation in the elections have done anything but good for national and state politics. Certainly it has not hurt the politics of California or Colorado."

"With the encouragement they have received, they're naturally going to be well on their way to making the Union. But I'd like to see them quit hiking as a supposed means of gaining support. It will get them nothing.
And the American woman should exert her strongest influence toward persuading her English sisters from attacking government officials. Those misguided women in London never will be able to convert to their cause genuine ministers, members of parliament and the voting citizens of England by hitting them over the head with stones and rubbish. The recent action of the English militant suf-fragists has serious hurt to the cause of the greatest cause of the century."

To Enter Convent

CHICAGO, April 10.—Mary Webb, 19 year old sister of Robert Webb, the most daring of the automobile bandits who terrified Chicago last winter, will enter a convent as atonement for her crime to which her brother has confessed.

She admitted this intention as she sat
a spectator in Judge Korsten's court yesterday, and her brother confirmed it afterwards. Webb, a blonde, but with several hold-ups, had elected to enter a plea of self-defense on the charge of murdering Detective Puler Hart.

Men Also Guilty

CHICAGO, April 10.—There will not be two standards of morality, one for women and another for men, in this court," declared Judge Hopkins in the new morals court yesterday. He was addressing a police man who had brought in two girls, but had not arrested their two male companions.

"The girls, who said they had just lost their purses in a department store, where they had earned $7 a week each,
were turned over to a probation officer."

Shoppers Blamed

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—That it is not so much the ruthless manufacturer as the ruthless shopper who is to blame for the deplorable conditions surrounding the shop and factory girl was explained by Mrs. Florence Kelley of New York before the final session of the National Consumers' League yesterday afternoon.
The speaker, who has been in the city left the working girl, that of breaking down physically or morally," said Mrs.
Kelley. "No one in the world has statistics of the number of girls that go wrong or are in the hospitals, the tuberculous camps and the hospitals."
"We women are well informed as to the history of China and Africa, but we are ignorant of the history of how our clothes are made. The United States lacks even the Balkan nations in protecting the working girls."

APPRECIATING THE BATH

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyrighted, 1913, by Lillian Russell.)

IT takes cultivation to appreciate a bath as truly as to enjoy a painting. Curious that in an age when conveniences for bathing are common as street lamps there is not the most distant need of warning devout souls against too much indulgence in the pleasures of the bath which the church found necessary in the middle ages. Bathing was then allowed to the devout as grudgingly as a prohibitionist would permit alcohol in case of illness, as many good reasons were alleged against the external use of water once as they are against the inward use of ardent spirits today. The bath has many more benefits besides laundering our garment of skin. Change of temperature from heat to cold refreshes. A hot bath in winter finished by a cold plunge or sponge will heat and stimulate the body so as to enable it to bear cold weather better for days. Few women understand the necessity of two baths daily for perspiring persons in hot weather, to clear the pores and to cool the body morning and night. Prostrations from heat would be unknown if this were the habit of all classes, especially of working women who perspire freely.

The bath as a means of physical development hardly begins to be understood. A properly-fitted bathroom is not second to a gymnasium as a means of physical perfection. People, especially men, take their baths too much by theory. The rigid disciplinarian takes baths in cold water the year around as a corporal benefit and a protest against weakness of the flesh. Some nervous, conscientious women endure this cold bath regime hoping to harden and strengthen themselves.
Some injudicious parents compel their innocent, fearful children to take cold baths, never dreaming of the mischief done.
Many cases of hysteria, epilepsy and paralysis have been the result of "hardening" children in their infancy. If the cold bath or shower frightens a child, if there is catching of the breath or tremor as the child enters the water, empty the bath at once and let in the warm water till the child is glad to get in and play in it. Remember, if you want to give a girl a weak constitution, by all means insist on the various systems of discomfort which excellent persons consider improvimprove your health and resist

MISS G. V. M.—The condition which you describe denotes inflammation of the ear. You should not try to doctor it yourself, but you should consult an ear specialist and he will give you directions as to how to cleanse and heal it. Such trouble with the ear should not be neglected, or it may extend inward and attack the most delicate structure and destroy the hearing.

ELMIRA—The first thing for you to do if you wish to get rid of superfluous flesh is to look well to your diet. Eat only simple, nourishing foods. Stop eating so many sweets. This tends to make one stout. Take plenty of exercise. It is hard for one to reduce flesh, as few people are willing to give up the rich foods and take the exercise necessary to do it. I shall send you a dietary for reducing flesh and the rolling exercises for reducing the hips if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

COUNTRY GIRL—Nine times out of ten the cause of an unlovely complexion is indigestion. Most women eat too much. They eat improperly and eat foods that don't nourish them. But even these mistakes might be corrected if they exercised, if they got out in the open air and purifying sunlight, and gave the bad blood made by the malnourished foods enough oxygen to burn up the imfrom reaching an acute stage.

ited must be the work of the exhibitor.
Each exhibitor must secure the official certificate and badge, which will cost 10 cents and will entitle him to any number of admissions and exhibit.

Collectors must actually belong to the boy who makes the entry.
Exhibitors' certificates will be numbered and each article exhibited must bear the number and age of exhibitor at the time of entry.

If possible all drawings, posters, designs,
etc., must be mounted upon uniform cards 22x28.

All entries for exhibition must be in by April 25. Articles for exhibition may be brought later, but must be delivered at the showroom between 2:30 and 2:50, and not later than Wednesday, April 30.

Every possible precaution will be taken for the protection and safety of the exhibits, but the management will assume no responsibility for articles lost, injured or stolen.

Competent judges will make the awards.
If exhibitors are inferior judges may use their discretion in awarding only second or third or no prize.

When there are less than three entries in any subdivision, no award will be made. The question for the debate is to serve the right to combine them with entries in another section or cancel the section and refund the entry fee.

All exhibits must remain until the end of the show, at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, May 3.

ELOPERS FACE U. S. GRAND JURY

Case Against Diggs and Caminetti Investigated by Jurors.

Miss Warrington and Miss Norris Tell Their Story Today.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—The federal grand jury this afternoon began an investigation into the sensational elopement of Drev Caminetti and Maury Diggs of Sacramento with Miss Marsha Warrington and Miss Lola Norris, belles of the capital city.

Both girls arrived here last night and were on hand at 2 p. m. to answer to a series of questions propounded by District Attorney John L. McNab. They were represented by Attorney Arthur Seymour, who accompanied them. Other witnesses questioned by the grand jury were Martin Beasley of Sacramento and Chief of Police Hillhouse of Reno.

WERE MARRIED MEN.
Beasley will tell of the fact that both Diggs and Caminetti were married when they crossed the state line into Nevada with the two girls, and Chief Hillhouse will rehearse his work in capturing the quartet in a bungalow in the Nevada metropolis.

TO BRING BACK FUGITIVE.
Inspector James Drew left last night for Medford, Ore., to bring back George Mills, charged with stealing a motorcycle from James Aune, 1931 San Pablo avenue. Mills is 19 years of age and lived at 502 Twenty-seventh street. The boy was traced to Medford after he had had a fall from the machine and had been cared for in a doctor's office in Richmond.

AAHMES TEMPLE SHRINERS' BALL IS BRILLIANT EVENT AT HOTEL OAKLAND BEAUTIFUL GOWNS OF WOMEN MAKE SPECTACLE COLORFUL AND CHARMING

Scintillant with color and pulsating with rhythm and motion, the third annual ball of Aahmes Temple, order of the Mystic Shrine, proved to be the most brilliant of the season's social events. It was a replete success, and the spacious ivory ballroom of the Hotel Oakland was thronged with dancers.

The gowns of the women guests were a kaleidoscope of rainbow tints.

from the vivid hues of Neil rose and St. Patrick green to the softer pastel shades of delicate blues, champagnes and pinks. They made a picture of rare beauty and modishness, such as even the huge hostelry has seldom seen equaled.

The gaiety of the assemblage was heightened by the presence of visiting Shriners from San Francisco, San Jose, Napa, Vallejo and other neighboring cities, as well as the east bay region. More than 500 dancers enjoyed the program numbers to the music of a 20-piece orchestra hidden behind palms and ferns at the end of the ballroom.

BANDMASTER IS COMPOSER.
The opening two-step was of especial interest, as the music had been composed by Willard T. Tidwell, bandmaster of Aahmes band, for this occasion alone. It was entitled "The Potentate of Aahmes" and was dedicated to Frank W. Bilger, the illustrious potentate of the temple.

The grand march was led by Frank W. Bilger and Mrs. E. F. Shortledge and the long line of the dancers wound into many intricate and original figures. Among the prominent men and women who were at the head of the marchers were George F. Foye and Mrs. F. W. Bilger, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Forster, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Robinson, Dr. J. Loran Pease and Mrs. L. E. Westrich, Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Woolsey, Mr. and Mrs.

Kenzie and Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Le Bullister.

HATPINS ARE SOUVENIRS.

The souvenirs presented to the women guests during the grand march were unique and valuable favors in the shape of hatpins, which were examples of the jeweler's art. A moon of gold, emblematic of Aahmes, the god of the moon, had behind it the scimitar of the Shriners in highly polished silver, the rest of the pin being of dull gold. The striking souvenir was presented to Mrs. David E. Perkins.

Floor committee—George F. Foye, chairman; Joseph C. Beatty, Fred W. Le Bullister, Walter E. Corder, Frank G. Goodhead, Fred W. Lander, Charles F. Lee, Herman McKen, Paul A. Marquette, E. U. S. MAY TAKE OVER U.P.-S.P. MERGER

Receivership Planned Should St. Louis Court Reject the Suit.

Officials Doubt Power of the Tribunal to Extend Time Limit.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—There is a probability of the government taking charge of the properties of the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger through a receivership, if the United States court at St. Louis does not approve the new plan of dissolution, rejected by Attorney-General McKeen.

It developed today that there is serious doubt among officials of the department of justice as to the power of the St. Louis court to extend the time limit given by the Supreme court within which to accomplish disintegration under the Sherman law.

HAVE UNTIL MAY 10.
The railroads have until May 10 to present a plan of dissolution acceptable to the court. Failing to comply with this condition, the Supreme court provides for settlement of the question by government receivership. McKeen was advised today that the railroad hopes to submit its plan to the court on April 21. The attorney-general will oppose its approval, though he may not go to St. Louis.

OPPOSES DISTRIBUTION OF ESTATE TO DAUGHTER

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—Robert J. Hancock, father of Elaine Hancock, of 928 Broadway street, and executor of the estate of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Hancock, today opposed the distribution of the property to his daughter. His opposition was based on some technical grounds, including the non-payment of the inheritance tax. The estate, which is valued at $110,000, less certain mortgages, was left to Miss Hancock by her grandmother.

REDUCES CHARGE.
Prosecuting Attorney W. J. Hennessy this morning recommended that the charge of assault with a deadly weapon, filed against Paul Jenner, 1545 Campbell street, be reduced to a simple battery charge, as Jenner, while drunk, had made a confused attack with a small knife against John Walcott, a laundry wagon driver. Walcott was unwilling to testify against Jenner in a felony case. Jenner pleaded guilty to battery. Sentence will be imposed Saturday.

will be treasured among the choice possessions of the women guests for its beauty and originality. The pin was designed and made by an Oakland firm.

Many care-free merry-making parties enjoyed fully little suppers in the hotel dining-room during the supper hour, and the whole affair set a precedent of entertaining which will be difficult to excel or even equal in the future. Immense American flags draped the walls of the ballroom between silken draperies and banners of the colors of the order, and a mass of red tulips and emblems of the temple made of Spanish iris in purple and yellow shades was the only other decoration.

BURGLAR AT WINDOW AROUSES S. F. WOMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—Mrs. M. Knoolink of 1028 Cole street had just extinguished the light in her apartment at a late hour last night when she was aroused by the sudden opening of her window. With a start she jumped up and almost touched a burglar who had thrust his head and shoulders into the apartment. Mrs. Knoolink called loudly for aid and the porch climber, who had scaled a drain pipe, dropped hastily to the ground. When the police from the park station reached the scene he had disappeared.

PITCHER NOT SAFE BANK.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—A pitcher set on a mantel-piece was chosen as a safe place for depositing money by Mrs. L. Pose of 4934 Haste street when she left home yesterday. On her return she found that $10 which she had placed in the pitcher had been taken by a burglar who used a passkey on the front door.

Probation for Accused Youth Is to Be Given Consideration

William Paul, an 18-year-old, pleaded guilty to a charge of pandering when his case was called before Superior Judge Donahue this morning, and upon the request of his attorney and parents the case was

"The charge against you is of serious nature," commented Judge Donahue, "and one that would be hard with an older man. There may be extenuating circumstances on account of your extreme youth, and for that reason I will refer the case to the probation office for report."

for that reason I will refer the case to the probation officer. Besides, you have pleaded guilt and you deserve some leniency for that reason. I want to say that while I am a judge, a defendant who pleads guilty usually receive some consideration while, on the other hand, should plead not guilty and stand trial.

Parents of the young man appeared in court to testify as to his previous habits and environment. They said that he had come to Oakland November and had been here three months when he was arrested.

"He had never lived in a city before, and the only way I can account for his trouble is that he fell in with bad companions," said Mrs. P. "What we want is to get him back with us again; he has never been in trouble before."

The case will come up again four weeks during which the

ANDERSON SPEAKS ON MERITS OF CITY HALL

Commissioners Address Large Audience in Enterprise Hall
Last Evening.

Commissioners Harry S. Anderson and William J. Bacus were the speakers last night at a large meeting held in Enterprise Hall under the auspices of the Irish-American League. Anderson dealt with the construction of the new city hall while Bacus paid special attention to his address to the work on Oakland's streets. In the city hall discussion Anderson said:

"After the pouring of the concrete for the first floor arches two elaborate tests were made which showed that the mixture of cement, rock and sand with the reinforcing used throughout—had a bearing strength of 1,500 pounds to the square foot. One of the tests consisted of weighing the floor down with thousands of pounds of live and dead weight.

VALUE OF TESTS.

"Such testing may not appear to be of any great importance and might be looked upon as a mere formality or piece of red tape. This, however, is not the case and one of the most significant things in connection with the tests is this:

"The building ordinance requires that each floor support 150 pounds to the square foot. The test showed that we were supporting 1500 pounds to the square foot or had ten times the required security.

"These tests are of the greatest value to the scientific world in the consideration of what is practically a new building material—reinforced concrete—and the uses of that material. On the completion of this new city hall of ours these records will be turned over to the Scientific American for publication.

"The question may arise as to why the floor slabs were made so strong or why not lighten them and save money in the cost of the material used. The floor slabs were constructed according to the minimum dimension, or four inches in thickness. The minimum amount of reinforcing allowed under the law was used and the great strength was derived from the genuineness of the mixture and the manner of wrapping the reinforcement. This was what brought about the result stated."

Of the street which will carry the municipal belt line railroad and the quay wall as follows: "Commencing at the Livingston street pier and extending westward is the first section of the highway which is to encircle the entire waterfront and which will serve as the main artery to the intricate system of wharves, docks, warehouses and spur tracks which will compose the literal interpretation of 'where ship and rail meet.'"

"This first section of the street which will carry the belt line railroad, owned and operated by the city of Oakland, is only 20 feet wide, but will be increased to 100 feet in width and will handle the bulk of the waterfront travel and freight transportation. I do not believe that there is another street in the world which is constructed in the same manner as this."

"It is a reinforced concrete affair with a suitable wearing surface. Throughout the concrete runs a triangular wire reinforcing and the concrete is one foot thick save where the nature of the ground requires a greater thickness, and there the concrete has been paid two feet thick with double the amount of reinforcing. A street laid in this manner will wear with all the durability of the old Roman stone highways."

QUAY WALL WORK.
"The quay wall is another important piece of the harbor development. This extends from Clay to Myrtle street and is 25 feet wide at its bottom, tapering to an 18-inch curb at the top. Extending along the front of the wall are fender piles which protect the wall from the bump and jar of vessels lying alongside. Here we find a novelty in wharf construction: the method used in setting the piles."

At the base of the wall it runs out into what is known as a 'pile' and in this 'pile' are fender piles, receive the piles. The upper end of the pile is bolted to the usual 'whale' or stringer. In case the piles become smashed it is an easy matter to lift the broken pile from its socket.

POLICE HEADS WATCH JONAS MURDER CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—Chief of Police White and Captain of Detectives Mooney were interested spectators this morning during the trial of Joseph Jones, a second hand dealer, charged with slaying his aged mother, Mrs. Lena Jones, last November. The case attracted considerable attention at the time and the evidence this morning was of great importance. Handwriting Expert Klitka, with the aid of elaborate drawings, and greatly enlarged photographs explained to the jury his theory regarding the case, the finding of blood stains and strands of Mrs. Jones' clothing on tell-tale implements.

EMBEZZLEMENT TRIAL BEGINS IN COURT

H. Baker, who represented to a money-lender that he had a crop of pears and apples and borrowed $250 on prospects of an alleged contract with a fruit canning company, is on trial before a jury in Superior Judge Denahan's court today. George Pierce is the complaining witness. He alleges that when the deal came to a show-down he found that Baker had no pear or apple contract with the Sunlit Fruit Company.

BACUS IS HEARD.

William J. Bacus, commissioner of streets and candidate for re-election, spoke. Bacus' remarks were frequently applauded. The speaker confined his remarks to his efforts for permanent pavement of the downtown district.

Bacus said in part: "Long before I assumed office as commissioner of streets I had been interested in this line of work, and among other things, had made a study of the different pavement materials. From the first I was determined to accomplish all that I could for standard asphalt pavement, and I took advantage of every opportunity and repeatedly demanded it, with the result that during my administration, from July 31, 1911, until the present time, more than ten miles of permanent pavement have been laid."

"I have had this improvement rushed particularly in the downtown sections. Before I took charge of the street department the work on these important streets had been done in a haphazard manner, but I took it up in logical order, and I believe that the work speaks for itself. Because it has been the policy of the department to urge this permanent pavement."

"Oil macadam, which has entirely replaced water-bound macadam for new construction, has been laid on residence streets, generally upon petition of a majority of the property owners or by some of the owners of new tracts of land."
